rom the Pastor's Desk

Dear Sisters and Brothers,

Early in our mathematics training we learned that if  $A=B$ , and  $B=C$ , then  $A=C$ . This simple principle can also be applied to the mysteries of our Catholic faith. If the bread is the body of Christ and we, the people gathered at Mass are the body of Christ, then we are the bread for the life of the world. So when Jesus stated that He is the bread of life come down from heaven to give life to the world, His followers struggled to understand. They ended up murmuring, disbelieving, rejecting and going home because they just couldn't grasp this kind of intimacy with God. Unfortunately, not everyone accepted this teaching. They did not try to understand what it was that Jesus was offering, Eternal Life.

As followers of Christ, as the bread of life to the world, Jesus calls out the best in us. How do we listen to Jesus' challenge? At the Last Supper, Jesus leaves us His legacy. "Do this in memory of me." We often limit our thinking so that "Do this" only references the blessing, breaking, giving, and sharing of the bread. Jesus calls us to more. What if we understand "Do this" as "do My whole life"—healing, forgiving, including outsiders, challenging wrongful authority, taking time to go away and pray, serving others by washing feet – so that it is we who are blessed and broken open so that we can give and share ourselves to feed the world? When we act in loving ways we are using that power, the power of the Holy Spirit. In our first reading, Joshua faced a similar challenge. Joshua poses a question for all of us. Shortly before his death, Joshua gathered the people and he asked them, "If it does not please you to serve the Lord, decide today whom you will serve, the gods your father served beyond the river or the gods of the Amorites in whose country you are now dwelling." Who do we serve? Do we serve the true God, the Father, Son and Holy Spirit? If so, then we must submit to Christ's teaching and commandments.

Just like the people of Jesus' time, we too have to make a choice. Do we choose Christ and the teaching of the Church, or do we turn away? Whenever we make the right choice it will always lead us to eternal life. Like Peter we must respond, "To whom shall we go?" To choose to serve the Lord orients everything in our lives. Being a disciple is worth the effort.

Be assured of my prayers. I ask you to remember me in your prayers.

Happy Summer!
God Bless!
Father Di Orio
