Dear Sisters and Brothers,

Today's readings demand that we examine our lives, lest we fall into the trap of trivial worries and a loss of sound relationships with others. Our reading from Deuteronomy calls for careful observance of the Law that God gave through Moses, neither adding to nor subtracting from the commands of God. Moses gave the statutes not as rules to be obeyed, but to teach people to respond to God's Love. Our Psalm response promises that the one who does justice will live in the presence of the Lord. Our reading from St. James points to the heart of what our religion must be: caring for the poor and widows, while keeping away from worldly values. Finally, there is a tremendous challenge placed before us in our Gospel reading from St. Mark. The established religious leaders focused on the failure of Jesus' disciples to wash their hands. To that complaint Jesus answers, "Well did Isaiah prophesy about you hypocrites, as it is written: This people honors me with their lips, but their hearts are far from me; in vain do they worship me, teaching as doctrines human precepts. You disregard God's commandment but cling to human tradition. In other words, religion must be a matter of the heart. Only in keeping our hearts filled with compassion can we fulfill the law of Christ. For Jesus, the law of God is not about obedience; it is about love. Justice is to live a life of loving response to God and the reason we observe the law is "that you may live". It's not about lip service, it is about doing. We can't say we are Christians and live lives contrary to the Gospel. In short, we should not sweat the small stuff, we should focus on the heart of our religion. Love of God and love of neighbor should be our core values, our witness to the world.

Be assured of my prayers. I ask you to please remember me in your prayers

Happy Summer!
God Bless!
Fr. Di Orio

OFFICE OF THE ARCHBISHOP

August 29, 2021

Dear Brothers and Sisters in Christ.

The Black and Indian Mission Collection has changed the landscape of evangelization and education efforts for Native Americans, Alaskan Americans and African Americans throughout the United States. Your financial contribution to this fund assists clergy, religious and lay catechists, parishes, schools and catechetical centers for the evangelization of the Black and Native American peoples throughout our country.

As we embark on another year of evangelization in the Black Catholic, Native American and Alaskan Native communities, everyone is encouraged to make a difference by offering their prayers for the fruitful support of the missions of the United States and to consider expressing concretely their Christian solidarity through sacrificial offerings.

Your support impacts the daily pastoral work of our bishops, consecrated religious women and men, and lay-leadership who labor on Indian reservations, urban centers, Black Catholic and Alaskan Native parishes, mission schools and the many, many diocesan programs and projects that strengthen the work of the Gospel. Locally, through grants awarded from this collection, a number of parishes within the Archdiocese are able to fund pastoral outreach and evangelization programs. It is only through your continued generosity of this collection that such efforts are realized.

The Collection for the Black and Indian Missions will be held in parishes of the Archdiocese of Philadelphia on the weekend of September 4 and 5, 2021. I ask your continued prayers and generous financial support of this collection.

Sincerely in Christ,
+Most Reverend Nelson J. Perez, D.D.
Archbishop of Philadelphia
